The image shows the Chinese character '武' (Wu) in a bold, black calligraphic style. The character is composed of two main parts: a '止' (stop) radical on the left and a '戈' (spear) radical on the right. The strokes are numbered from 1 to 12 in red, indicating the correct sequence and direction for writing the character. The strokes are as follows: 1. Top horizontal stroke of the '止' radical; 2. Middle horizontal stroke of the '止' radical; 3. Bottom horizontal stroke of the '止' radical; 4. Vertical stroke of the '止' radical; 5. Top horizontal stroke of the '戈' radical; 6. Middle horizontal stroke of the '戈' radical; 7. Bottom horizontal stroke of the '戈' radical; 8. Vertical stroke of the '戈' radical; 9. Diagonal stroke of the '戈' radical; 10. Bottom horizontal stroke of the '戈' radical; 11. Top horizontal stroke of the '戈' radical; 12. Bottom horizontal stroke of the '戈' radical.
